

An intelligent irrigation controller based on soil moisture sensing and weather forecast integration

The device minimizes water usage in agriculture while maximizing crop yield

Solar-powered, with wireless connectivity to remote management platforms.